

2015 POSTBAC DISTINGUISHED MENTOR AWARDS

Dr. B. Scott Perrin, Jr.

NHLBI

Nominated by Jeffrey Mullen

Nomination supported by Dr. Richard Pastor

"Scott is an amicable, dedicated, knowledgeable and selfless postdoctoral fellow whom I believe has contributed greatly to my growth as a scientist.....as a result of Scott's mentorship, I now feel ready to take on the kind of self-directed research that will define my success in graduate school and for the remainder of my scientific career".

Dr. Le Lu

CC

Nominated by Ari Seff

Nomination supported by Dr. Ronald Summers

"Dr. Lu has allowed me to truly "own" my projects. He has always treated me as an equal, taking into serious consideration any ideas I propose. This has afforded me the opportunity to first-author several publications..... Because of his tremendous generosity, both with his time and wealth of knowledge, I have been able to have an extremely educational and rewarding postbac fellowship".

Dr. Veronica A. Alvarez

NIAAA

Nominated by Mariah Blegen

"Having a mentor who was my advocate and confidant in the lab, at conferences, and on career decisions truly defined my experience as a postbac fellow. She has a special energy as a leader, always brimming with ideas on our projects and fostering a comradery among the lab that makes me not want to leave this May. She has inspired me to pursue any path I choose, no matter what challenges I may face".
